

RoyalFlight Airlines livery for

QualityWings Boeing 757

Version 2.0

Information

This aircraft was operated by airBaltic for a long time, tail number is YL-BDC. But in the 2013, aircraft was leased to the Royalflight Airlines. This is Russian charter airline founded by CoralTravel travel agency. For this moment, Royalflight have five Boeing 757-200 in operational use, but they want to use Boeing 767 and Boeing 737NG too. At the beginning of 2014, for this 757 assigned new reg. number - VQ-BTM. You can find more information about specific aircraft at PlaneSpotters.Net under this link:

Version 2.0 changes

- Livery based on HD paintkit and painted from scratch
- Fixed various bugs from previous version
- Color scheme slightly changed
- Windows configuration changed (accorded with real aircraft)
- No more blurry textures
- FSX livery version painted in HD (You can't use it in FS9!)

Caution! If you have first version of this livery, you must remove it via livery manager in order to install new livery.

Livery installation

You can install this livery in the flight simulator simply using QualityWings Livery Manager. It's located here:

<path_to_your_flight_simulator> \ QualityWings \ LiveryManager

Then run QW757RepaintManager.exe and press «Install Repaint» button. In new explorer's window locate livery you want to install and press «Open» button. When installation process ends, you can find new entry in repaints list. That's it, livery installed successfully. Installation process is the same for FSX and FS9.
